

Dear Friends of Africa!

Happy Holidays to all for your kindness, compassion and generosity for the children of Africa! I received this note today from Samwel Anyim. Samwel is a Joining Hearts and Hands scholarship graduate. His words below were very moving to us. Samwel's family lives in a mud house with no water or electricity. His education will bring him and his family out of poverty as he will be attending the university this coming September.

Hi !Have you stored enough energy to take you through the year 2012? Have the best of it and may God bless your good work. I don't really know the best way to thank you. Should I say it in capital letters, THANK YOU VERY MUCH. Anyway I would like to assist in the work you people have done for us. How can I be of help.... please? May you people assign me some duty. I feel that I should help a lot before I go to the University In September this year. I am ready for anything for the good of the society and world at large .Please advise me on how to participate. I hope to hear from you. Bye and have the best of this new year. Much love!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!
Samwel

Bill, Eric Anyim, Samwel Anyim, Joanne and Mbaka Oromo principal William Kabbis

To date, you have sponsored over 160 secondary students. Please go to <http://www.joiningheartsandhands.org/scholarships.php> to see how you can sponsor a great kid like Samwel.

This is also your last week to get that tax deductible donation out the door! No gift is too small! Donate safely and with no administrative charges whatsoever. Click on the Network for Good link below:

Of course you can give the old fashioned way too:

Joining Hearts and Hands, Ltd.

9 Fieldston Grove
Fairport, NY 14450

www.joiningheartsandhands.org

Joining Hearts and Hands is a 501 (c) (3) All donations are tax-deductible

Happy Holidays!!!

Bill and Joanne Cala