Spring Greetings from Joining Hearts and Hands!!

While Bill is on special assignment as School Superintendent of the Fairport Central Schools here in the United States, Joanne traveled solo to Korogwe, Tanzania in March to teach communication classes at the Usambara Girls High School. Joining Hearts and Hands has had a long term relationship with the Usambara Sisters and School Community including the Usambara Girls High School and the Usambara Montessori pre-school. With your support we have been able to sponsor 10 young women on secondary scholarship and construct 12 beautiful, spacious classrooms at the high school. Joining Hearts and Hands works to develop strong and meaningful relationships and this was a perfect opportunity to teach interpersonal communication & team building skills, provide individualized school & career counseling and share spiritual awareness exercises.

Joining Hearts and Hands was featured on our local PBS station WXXI. Check out this short video interview.
